WAREHOUSE ROBBERY.—Henry Hadfield and Joseph Roebuck, two well-known characters, were on Tuesday last brought before Thomas Wheatley, Esq., at the Ship Inn, Mirfield, and committed for trial at the next sessions for breaking into the warehouse of Mr. William Sykes, at Heckmondwike, and stealing a quantity of wool. Hadfield had only been discharged from the House of Correction on the Friday previous, where he had been rusticated for the last three months, it being about the twelfth time that he had been an inmate of that place.
