

You can search for more articles at <http://leedsmercury.mirfield-2ndlook.info>

BRADFORD FAIR.—The fair has been, on account of the fine weather, thronged. The shows and sights are unusually meagre and uninteresting. No less than three puppet shows were in the market, having in large letters announced a view of the Mirfield murders, for the gratification of the morbid curiosity of the ignorant. Very few good horses for hackney or harness were shown on Thursday, but such as were, fetched high prices, and were easily sold. There was a fair show of cart horses, for which there was a good sale. The donkey fair was numerously attended. Thirteen persons are in the lock-up charged with picking pockets, &c., in the fair.

You can search for more articles at <http://leedsmercury.mirfield-2ndlook.info>