

You can search for more articles at <http://leedsmercury.mirfield-2ndlook.info>

During the night of Monday last, the maltkiln of Mr. J. A. Rhodes, at Canal Lodge, Mirfield, was entered and four hams were taken away. The thieves effected an entrance by the cupola of the drying kiln, and must have been well acquainted with the premises. One ham, known to be unsound, was left behind.

You can search for more articles at <http://leedsmercury.mirfield-2ndlook.info>