

You can search for more articles at <http://leedsmercury.mirfield-2ndlook.info>

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.—A lad, about twelve years of age, had been sent by his father, Joseph Brook, of Mirfield, a waterman, to fill the lock, when he accidentally fell in. His father, having missed him, began to search with a boat-hook. He found his son in the water, and removed him to the lock-house. Dr. Whalley was sent for, and after some hours succeeded in restoring him to consciousness, although all night he was in a very unsatisfactory condition. Singular to say, he has no recollection of either falling or being in the water.

You can search for more articles at <http://leedsmercury.mirfield-2ndlook.info>