

RAILWAY ACCIDENT NEAR DEWSBURY.—Yesterday afternoon an accident occurred on the railway between Dewsbury and Mirfield, but luckily it was not attended with any serious consequences. A London and North-Western engine ran into a ballast train and damaged some of the waggons, and also had its buffer plank and buffers broken.