

A HUDDERSFIELD MAN KILLED AT MIRFIELD RAILWAY STATION.—William Hoyle, of Huddersfield, fish hawker, a man forty-two years of age, was killed instantaneously on Wednesday, at Mirfield railway station. A luggage train was advancing while he was stepping upon the platform from the permanent way, and through stumbling he fell backwards, and, being caught by the engine, was run over and almost cut to pieces.