

YORKSHIRE IN THE ANNUAL REGISTER
OLD TRIAL.—Is there not something wrong Ross's extract from the above, under the title "Mirfield"? Were not Patrick Read and McCa tried for the murders of an old gentleman, his servant? I think Read was hanged at York, reprieved and sentenced to penal servitude, and memory serves me correctly, he either died or com suicide on the way to a penal settlement. Permi thank Mr. Ross, S. M., and J. E. H. for their Thickhed Nunnery.—J. W., Upper Holloway.
