PRESENTATION OF PRIZES AT MIRFIELD.—On Saturday the annual distribution of prizes to the Mirfield Volunteers took place at the Town Hall, Mirfield, in the presence of a large company.—Major Crowther stated that the numerical state of the Mirfield detachment had not been so large since 1886 as at present, and they never had so many efficients since the corps was formed. (Applause.) The work of the year compared very favourably with what has been done in previous years. Their drills had been frequent and well attended; their shooting had improved, and the soldierlike deportment of the company, which was the strongest in the battalion, was all that could be desired. He congratulated them on their efficiency.—Mrs. James Barker distributed the prizes. The principal winners were Private Cass, Sergeant Midwood, Corporal Sheard, Sergeant Lee, Private Willsden, Private Hirst, Corporal Ashton, Private Copley, Private Ledgard, and Corporal Holt.
