

CLAIM AGAINST A RAILWAY COMPANY AT DEWSBURY.—On Thursday at the Dewsbury County Court, before his Honour Judge Snagge, Mr. J. H. Wheatley, of The Hagg, Mirfield, sued the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway Company for the recovery of £23 11s. 6d. for damage done to plaintiff's crops, by smoke from the defendants' engine-sheds at Mirfield station.—His Honour gave a verdict for the defendants on the ground that the plaintiff must have known the purpose for which the land was purchased, and that the price paid was intended to cover compensation.
