

Stained glass has been inserted into the east window of Upper Hopton Church, Mirfield, as a memorial of the late Rev. G. P. Kerr, the first Vicar. The chief openings contain representations of the Agony in the Garden, the Crucifixion, the Resurrection, and St. Peter and St. John coming to the Sepulchre; and the tracery contains a choir of angels in adoration. The work is from the studio of Messrs. Powell Brothers, of Park-square, Leeds.
